Learning Objectives:

With the help of the reports published on this site, learn about the development of the internet in the world.

Pedagogical Approaches and Activities:

With the help of the reports published on the World Internet project: Examine the effects of digital communication on the social and political life of a society.

- Describe the use of one or two forms of new media to share knowledge and information on a current issue in society
- Evaluate how new media are used in mass communication and the impact democratic institutions and processes in society

Use the reports from World Internet project to understand young people’s Internet usage patterns and interests

You can also use the reports to study how the internet is used? For what purposes? By whom?
