#WeThe15

“ The United Nations Alliance of Civilizations is honoured to join the global human rights movement #WeThe15. I hope that our collective efforts will contribute to end discrimination against persons with disabilities and foster a more inclusive society where, despite our differences, we can all live together peacefully as one humanity. ”

HIGHLIGHTS

UNAOC joined the global human rights movement #WeThe15, which aims to end discrimination towards persons with disabilities and act as a global movement publicly campaigning for disability visibility, accessibility, and inclusion. “I hope that our collective efforts will contribute to end discrimination against persons with disabilities and foster a more inclusive society where despite our differences, we can all live together peacefully as One Humanity,” the High Representative for UNAOC said in a statement. (10 September)

HIGHLIGHTS

UNAOC and Fundación Mujeres Por Africa organized an interactive webinar on “Women and Mediation in Intercultural and Interreligious Conflicts” as part of their joint initiative, Women’s Alliance for Peace, to support the role of women as peace mediators and negotiators in conflicts with a sociocultural and religious dimension. Women mediators from Mali and the Central African Republic participated in the discussion. They explored the socio-cultural challenges in the multidimensional crises in both countries with a focus on the challenges that women mediators face at the local level. (14 September)

The High Representative for UNAOC, H.E. Mr. Miguel Ángel Moratinos, delivered remarks in a video message at the High-Level Forum on the Culture of Peace entitled “The Transformative Role of the Culture of Peace: Promoting Resilience and Inclusion in Post-Covid Recovery”. In his statement, Mr. Moratinos emphasized the importance of taking result-oriented actions towards uprooting all forms of discrimination and eliminating inequalities. “We need to promote diversity and nurture a culture of peace by broadening the space for intercultural and interreligious dialogue. A culture of peace should be nurtured through strengthening mutual respect and protecting the dignity of all members of society,” he said. (7 September)

To kick off the 76th session of the UN General Assembly, the High Representative for UNAOC addressed the High-Level Meeting of the Nizami Ganjavi International Center. In a session entitled “What Does Peace and Security Stability Mean in the 21st Century?”, Mr. Moratinos emphasized the importance of strengthening mutual respect and protecting the dignity of all members of society to nurture a culture of peace. “With crises, a window of opportunities opens up [...] We should reset the button to recommit to work together in solidarity, unity, and compassion as One Humanity”, he said. (20 September)

PROGRAMMING HIGHLIGHTS

As part of the #DigitalGamesForPeace challenge organized by UNAOC, the UN Office of Counter-Terrorism (UNOCT), and the UNESCO Mahatma Gandhi Institute of Education for Peace and Sustainable Development (MGIEP), 22 game developers and researchers in the fields of peacebuilding, prevention of violent extremism, and intercultural dialogue aged 18-35, were shortlisted for the second phase of the programme for a chance to develop innovative ideas on the use of games for peacebuilding (find their profiles here: <https://mgiep.unesco.org/gamesforpve-shortlisted-participants>). The selected participants recently came together for an induction session. (17 September)

The five recipients of the Youth Solidarity Fund (YSF) of UNAOC participated in two workshops conducted by Search for Common Ground focusing on “Understanding and Communicating Impact” (7 September) and “Sustainable Youth Leadership” (21 September).

They benefited from the personal insights of various experts in the field. In addition, on International Day of Peace, UNAOC highlighted the work of YSF recipients on social media in the field of peacebuilding, thus providing visibility to their activities and projects. (21 September)

UNAOC and the International Organization for Migration (IOM) announced the members of the 2021 International Jury of their joint initiative, the PLURAL+ Youth Video Festival: Mahen Bonetti (Sierra Leone / USA), Founder and Executive Director of the African Film Festival, Inc.; Sophie Boutros (Lebanon), Filmmaker and Executive Director of the Mohammed Bin Rashid School for Communication at the American University in Dubai; Cindy Carcamo (USA), Staff Writer (immigration) at the Los Angeles Times; Paul Marvucic (USA), Head of Product Marketing for Europe, the Middle East and Africa at TikTok; Harry Roselmack (France), Director, Journalist and Author; and Myriam Vidriales (Mexico), Director of Communication and Marketing for Latin America at Grupo Planeta.

UNAOC is preparing to launch the Young Peacebuilders “Training Handbook for Young Peace Educators”, a collection of practical recommendations and hands-on peace education tools used in the four successful editions of UNAOC’s Young Peacebuilders programme.

Designed for young civil society leaders worldwide to enhance the competencies of their fellow young peacebuilders, this handbook aims to support the growth of networks of young leaders equipped with the needed skills to build inclusive, cohesive, and peaceful societies.
